Pediatric Interim Care Center

WHO we are: The Newborn Nursery is a One of a kind, model program that provides Specialized, 24-hour care for drug exposed And medically fragile newborns.

WHAT we do: PICC brings babies safely through withdrawal from drugs, including heroin, cocaine, methamphetamines, methadone, and prescription drugs. The pioneering program also facilitates visitation for families, provides caregiver training, follows the babies after they leave, and offers a range of community outreach and education services.

WHERE we are: PICC is in Kent, Washington, 20 miles southeast of Seattle. PICC is the only 24-hour care center serving drug-exposed infants throughout Washington State.

WHY we're needed: More than 12,000 infants born in Washington State each year have been prenatally exposed to illicit drugs. Many of these little ones suffer serious effects and need the help that only PICC provides.

HOW we save you money: A day of care at PICC costs $165. In a hospital neonatal unit the cost is more than $3,000, and taxpayers pick up the bill through Medicare. In 2007, PICC documented more than $6 million in real taxpayer savings for babies who would have required hospital stays for narcotic-assisted withdrawal.

HOW we're funded: PICC is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization. The Washington State Legislature provides about 60% of PICC's funding through a line item in the state budget. The other 40% of PICC's operating expense is provided through the generosity of individual contributors and foundations.

The Pediatric Interim Care Center has a Wish List of items that reflects the items most used and needed on a daily basis at PICC. The following list was created to help those wishing to purchase specific items while, hopefully, avoiding hard earned money and time being spent on items which we cannot use.

We are experiencing a shortage of disposable diapers at this time. If that is something that you would be willing to donate, we would appreciate it!!
